DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it contains legal phraseology such as “means” in lines 2 and 4. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Objections

2. Claims 5, 8, 11 and 12 are objected to because of the following informalities:
 - Claims 5 and 8, line 5, replace “power” with --powder--.
 - Claims 11 and 12, line 6, replace “power” with --powder--.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Art Unit: 2852

5. Claims 1, 2, 5, 7 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yazaki et al. [JP 2002-278242] in view of Zalewski ['723].

Yazaki et al. disclose an image forming apparatus comprising an image forming section including a developing device, a toner conveying device including an air supplying means, and a toner powder pump; wherein the toner powder having a means circularity of 0.93 to 0.97 [See Abstract]. However, Yazaki et al. does not disclose that the air supplying means is capable of varying an amount of air.

Zalewski discloses an image forming apparatus comprising an air supplying means capable of varying an amount of air to be fed [See Claim1].

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the printer air supplying means disclosed by Yazaki et al. capable of varying an amount of air to be fed as taught by Zalewski for the purpose of yielding a generally fluidized toner having substantially fluid characteristics.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 3, 4, 8-10 and 12 are allowed.

7. Claim 6 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

8. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Art Unit: 2852

None of the prior art of record teaches or suggests a toner agitating device having an air feeding means comprising a plurality of air pumps unable to vary an amount of air to be fed for a unit time and each being provided with a particular flow rate.
